

SBU ACADEMY nextgen

All the places you will go

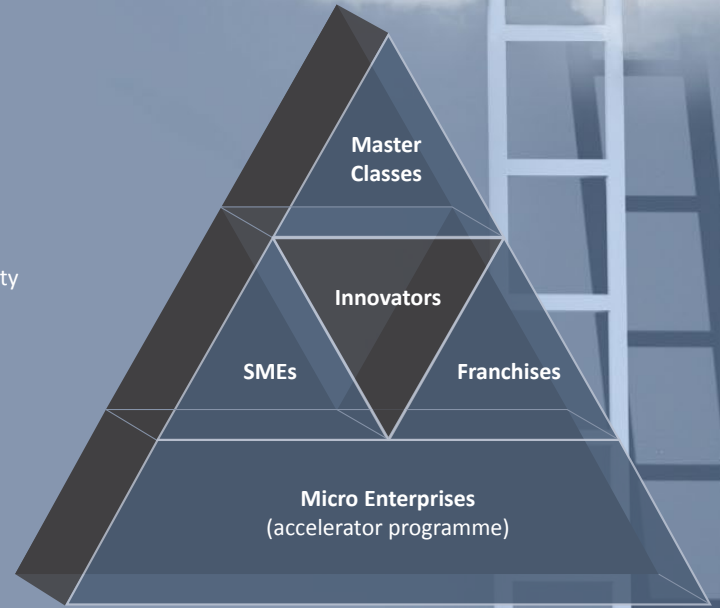

Who we are

The NEXTGEN SBU Academy (NEXTGEN) is a business and entrepreneurship development training organisation. We partner with business schools, the private sector, skills authorities and the government to develop and promote entrepreneurship skills and to harness entrepreneurial activity in South Africa.

Why NEXTGEN

Our goal is to boost the SA economy through the provision of education and training for SMEs. We are focused on strengthening the entrepreneurship ecosystem through bespoke offerings, in an exciting era, to stimulate the South African economy at different developmental levels.

NEXTGEN model

Sectoral coverage

Including but not limited to the following:

Banking

Engineering

Construction

Support services

Retail

Fashion

Manufacturing

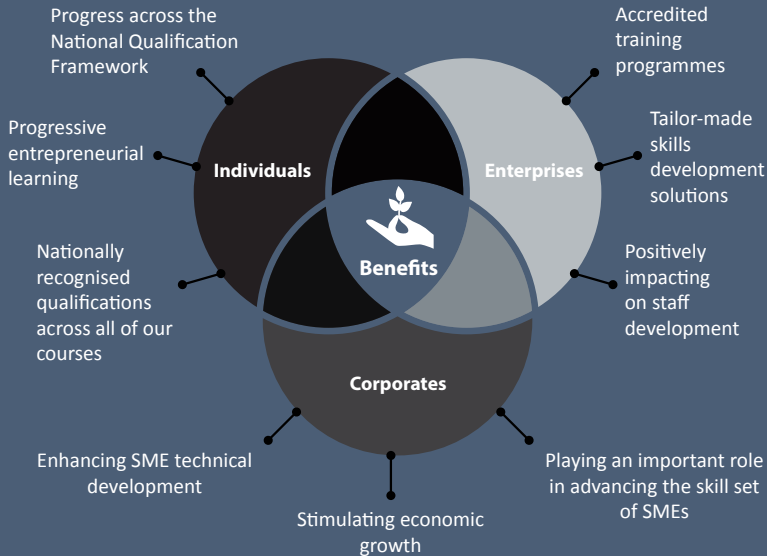

Travel and hospitality

We offer nationally recognised training and qualifications geared towards the development of the skills and mind-set needed to succeed in setting up a business, running a business and or growing an established business.

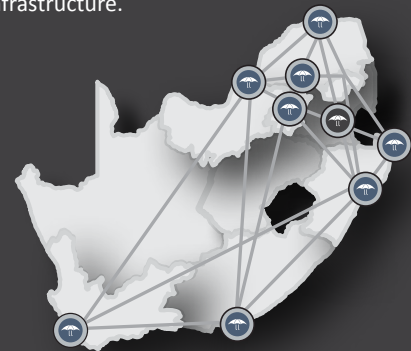

Collaborate with NEXTGEN

Benefits

Our footprint

We deliver our learning programmes through the Shanduka Black Umbrellas business incubator infrastructure.

How we do it

We collaborate with a host of employers, education and industry experts to deliver and support a range of skills and business development activities including masterclasses and conferences.

How the learning is structured

With the assistance of accredited and experienced industry leaders, top business schools, and learning experts, NEXTGEN provides learning interventions which are classroom based, online and simulated.

NEXTGEN SBU Academy | “All the places you will go”

Contact Us: Kim Willoughby | NextGen@blackumbrellas.org | 011 529 6407